

Problem of the Day: A company is looking to make a new size of cylindrical water cooler. If the new height is 36 inches and the diameter is 30 inches, how many square inches of plastic are needed to make the cooler?

Plan for the Day:

Collect weekly homework

More practice with surface area

Objective: We will be able to find the surface area of cylinders and prisms.

Good luck football and cheerleaders at Salado!!